

January 22, 2008

Dear Stakeholders,

We'd like to take this opportunity to thank all stakeholders who provided us with their written comments on the information we presented at our initial consultation meeting to discuss development of the AESO's long-term transmission system plans.

All the written comments we received on the AESO's Future Demand and Energy Outlook 2007-2027 and the draft generation scenarios have been reported, along with the AESO's responses, on our stakeholder consultation comment and response form. Please click here to view this document on our website.

We have carefully considered of all the questions and comments received and we appreciate the time and effort stakeholders have taken to provide their thoughtful input.

We look forward to additional industry consultation as we create draft transmission development concepts based on the load forecast and generation scenarios. Our expectation is that we'll be ready to review these concepts with stakeholders later this spring. We will announce the next stages of our consultation via the weekly stakeholder e-newsletter and website postings.

Thank you

Original signed by

Jeff Nish, P.Eng.
Director, Resource Adequacy
Transmission