

The AESO is organizing an Energy Storage Industry Learnings Forum (ESILF) to provide expertise and key learnings to the AESO on targeted matters related to the integration of energy storage in Alberta. The ESILF is an information gathering forum for the AESO, not a decision body.

Stakeholders who are interested in becoming a member of the ESILF are encouraged to review the ESILF Terms of Reference and respond to the questions below. The deadline for applications is Mar. 6, 2020. Completed applications should be submitted to energystorage@aeso.ca.

The AESO will be notifying by email and will publish the names of the chosen ESILF members on www.aeso.ca on Mar. 19, 2020.

The ESILF will broadly represent a cross-section of industry leaders with energy storage experience. To keep topic discussions meaningful and effective, membership will be targeted without compromising stakeholder representation and required expertise. The Department of Energy will also be a member of the forum to share in the key learnings and discussion for the purposes of potential policy or legislative changes to facilitate energy storage integration in Alberta.

Your answers to the following questions will help the AESO to create an effective forum. Please keep your responses concise. Thank you.
