Re: Loss Factor Stakeholder Meeting #4, August 22, 2007, 09:00 a.m. - 12:00

The AESO has hosted four meetings since April 2007 with the express interest of discussing how the 2007 Transmission Regulation will affect the Loss Factor Rules. The formal Rule consultation will begin by the end of September. The Rule is expected to be completed by December 2007.

The AESO has prepared several documents on possible interpretations of the Regulation and has shared the documents with stakeholders. The information is located at:

www.aeso.ca > Transmission > Loss Factors > Archives > 2007 Archives

Based on the information provided to date, the AESO invites further input from stakeholders so the draft Rule and Appendix can be modified accordingly. The modifications are meant to allow for consideration of the issues by stakeholders prior to the consultation phase. The AESO requests input from stakeholders on the latest versions of the Rule and Appendix, as well as the inter-tie interpretation by August 31 2007. The AESO will update the red lined version of these documents by September 7 2007. Of course, prior to the consultation, the AESO would be happy to discuss any aspects of the Loss Factor changes.

Please contact me at 403 539 2614 or at lossfactor@aeso.ca if you have any further comments or questions.
